LAUREL MEETING THRIVING

GOOD ATTENDANCE CONTINUES DESPITE UN FAVORABLE WEATHER FOR RACING.

Carbide Proves a Surprise in the Carrollton Handi--Runes Victorious in a Close Finish—Edna Kenna Takes a Race and Is Bid Up.

Kenna Takes a Race and Is Bid Up.

Laurel, Md., October 5.—The Carrollton Handicap, which was offered as the main carded feature here this afternoon, went to the credit of J. S. Tyree, when Carbide took the measure of a small but speedy band of sprinters. Much of the interest in the running of the stake was robbed when the better grade of horses, nominated overnight, declined the issue, due to the sudden change in track conditions, the course having been turned overnight into a veritable quagmire. L. Mink, who had the mount on Carbide, sent him to the front quickly and into a good lead, which he maintained to the end, although he was shaken up in the stretch, when Distant Shore moved up with a rush. Coquette was the one to race into third place. The latter ran at an even pace throughout and misland gamely, but was not able to concede so big a difference in the weight in the soft going.

Despite the sudden change in climatic conditions, snother large crowd journeyed to the course to witness the running of the usual six-race program. A handicap for three-year-olds and over at a mile and a sixteenth held the secondary place on the card. The three placed horses dashed past the judges closely bunched, with H. Waterson's Runes victorious over Borgo and Pardner. The three ran closely bunched all the way, with Pardner and Runes showing in front by the narrowest of margins until in the final sixteenth.

The running of the second race, a dash for two-year-olds, resulted in an easy victory for Edna Kenna, which easily ran away from her opponents. The victory, however, was costly for the stable, as she was bid up from an entered price of $500 to $1.100 be H. G. Bedwell, whose Eddie T. ran second. She was bought in.

Jockey J. McCabe has left for Kentucky and will finish out the season on that circuit.

The John Sanford horses were transferred to Benning today.

For a considerable time today the advisability of starting Coquette, through the mud under 121 pounds, was discussed by trainer Goldsborough, but it was finally dec

DEATH PENALTY FOR HORSE POISONING.

In the First Spring Meeting at Newmarket in 1860 everal race horses in Stevens' stables were poisoned y arsenic being put in the trough at which they are watered. A reward of 100 guineas was imediately offered for the discovery of the offenders, ho, however, succeeded for that time in cluding he pursuit of justice; but in 1811, emboldened by heir success, they again perpetrated a similar fence.

their success, they again perpetrated a similar offence.

At the commencement of the First Spring Meeting at Newmarket in 1811 Spaniard, Perouette, The Dandy and Sir F. Standiski's Eagle colt died from arsenic poisoning. Two other horses, Reveller and Calebs, recovered. This atrocious act created general indignation, and a reward of 500 guineas was immediately offered by the Jockey Club for the discovery of the guilty party.

On August 15 in the same year, Daniel Dawson, a notorious "touter," was apprehended at Brighton and committed by M. Conant, the magistrate of Mariborough street to Cambridge Gaol, a true bill having been found against him by the Grand Jury for poisoning horses at the Newmarket Spring Meeting of 1869.

and committed by M. Compit, the magnetize of Marlborough street to Cambridge and a true bill having been found against him by the Grand Jury for poisoning horses at the Newmarket Spring Meeting of 1800; and the committed of this offence, Mr. Sergeant Sellon being the comsel for the prosecution. The learned Sergeant dwelt much on the enormity of the offence with which the prisoner stood charged. He said this was not an offence recognized at common law, but was founded on the statute of the Ninth George L. C. 22, which was electedly wounding, malming and killing cattle. He was well aware that the mere killing would not support this indictment without an object attached to it. The statute upon which this indictment was founded did not specify further than unlawfully and maliciously killing animals, but the motives which prempted the killing and maining were to be considered. If it be proved that the horse the subject of this indictment was killed by poison, then it would be necessary also to prove pre-existing malice. If a man kill or main as animal in the moment of anger the offence would ob be recognized by this statute, as revenge or malice to the animal alone would not be sufficient without an object of gain or reward. Though the offender had never seen the owner, the case for the prosecution rested on the widence of Cecific malice days in the owner even, but, as in this case, the law implied malice when the animal was killed for an object of gain or reward. Though the offender had never seen the owner, the case for the prosecution rested on the evidence of Cecification of Dawson he had prepared a strong solution of strength which he had been tempted into this cine in the expectation of receiving a share of the gains which were to be realized by a confederate of the name of Trist, who was to bet heavily against the horses thus made safe. Upon the conclusion of the evidence for the prosecution, Mr. Sorder, and a hack belonging to Mr. Adams, of Rayston, at Newmarket on July 10, 1809, and thereby toolsoning evert

THIRTY LEADING AMERICAN MONEY-WINNING OWNERS OF 1915

The stable winnings of L. S. Thompson so greatly exceed those of any competing turfman that he is bound to go into the records of the turf as the principal winning American owner of 1915. Of course it is well understood that this money really belongs to H. P. Whitney, with the exception of such part of it as was won by Mr. Thompson's own colt, Bromo. It is not Mr. Whitney's first similar experience. In 1904, because of the death of his father, William C. Whitney, his horses raced in the name of H. B. Duryca, and, with the total carnings of $200,107, formed the leading stable of that year, H. G. Bedwell is doing well, as usual, and is well intrenched in second place, with A. Belmont a good third. At present the stable accounts of our thirty leading owners are:

Complete details of purchases made by Americans at the Newmarket sales of August 31 and September 1 are now available and serve to show that valuable additions are to be made to our thorough the sales beginning September 14. In the two days' sale referred to, Howard Oots was the chief purchaser in the item of number bought, but did not take any especially high-priced ones, Charles T. Patterson leading in the latter particular. Purchases and prices were:

was knocked down to him he remarked: "He should win a Derby in America." From which it may be inferred the rotund and genial Jack has American racing in view.

It is observable that the majority of the yearlings bought were colts. For service in this country as sires of the future we shall thus gain representatives of all that is fashionable and successful in modern English breeding. It is inconceivable that some of these colts will not turn out to be of high class and afford us an example of what choice English youngsters can do in competition with the pick of our native breds. Among those bought are colts by Chaucer. St. Amant. Thrush. Llangibly, Troutbeck, Marajax, Polymelus, Sunstar, Spearmint, Royal Realm. Cicero. St. Frusquin. Santry. Tredennis. Roi Herode, Ronquelaure, Lemberg, Radium, Aquascutum, Bachelor's Double, Desmond and Santoli, which about covers all that is desirable from there, of the forty-cight given in the foregoing lists thirty-seven are colts. In England prices for horses at auction are in our money on that basis.

tence of death was pronounced, and Dawson was executed at Cambridge on August 8, 1812, and, although he confessed his guilt, did not mention his having had any accomplice in the crime, as had been generally supposed.

The criminal was prosecuted by the Jockey Club at an expense of $7,500.

This trial clearly established the fact that, by the statute of the Ninth George I. C. 22, the offense of poisoning or maining race horses so as to gain money by incapacitating them from running a race was made a capital felony, and punishable accordingly.

LEADING FRENCH TURFMAN PASSES ON.

One of France's leading owners and breeders passed away September 15. in M. Gaston Dreyfus, who contracted a chill some weeks previously when attending the funeral of his brother, the late M. Ferdinand Dreyfus. Although his financial operations took up the greater part of his time, M. Gaston breyfus found leisure to indulge in his fondness for sport, and the French turf has lost in him a keen supporter. He was the owner of the Haras de Perray. He first became well known as the owner of Presto 11., by Reuil—Mademoiselle Prefere, which as a three-year-old created a great sensation by inflicting defeat on Major Loder's wonderful filly Pretty Polly, in the Prix du Consiel Municipal of 1904. Odds of 5 to 2 were laid on the daughter of Gallinule, in face of a field which included the four-year-old Zinfandel (destined in the following season to win the Ascot Gold Cup, the three-year-old Macnonald II., successful in the Prix du Consiel a twelve month afterwards), and other good horses. Although Presto II. had won eight of his races that year, inclusive of the Prix Perplexe, the Prix Fould, the Prix du Prince de Galles and other good events. he was one of the long-priced outsiders for the Prix du Consiel, starting at 50 to 1 against. Ranch was in the saddle and D. Maher on Pretty Polly, which failed by two lengths in the attempt to concede the French colt nine pounds.

Another good horse owned by M. Dreyfus was Od du Bhin II., by St. Daimen, with which he carried off the French Derby (Prix du Jockey Club) at Chantilly in 1910, Percy Woodland up. M. Dreyfus was a member of the Cercle Artistique et Litteraire, of the Automobile Club. the Cercle du Bois de Boulogne, and the Cercle de Deauville.

CURRENT NOTES OF THE TURF.

London Sporting Life recently published a list of English stallions at stud service in Australia. Included in the list is our own veteran celebrity. Cesarion. Of course it was gross ignorance to name him in such a list, but he is well worth claiming and doing well at a fee of $150.

and doing well at a fee of $150.

At Newmarket, England, September 17. the Bury St. Edmunds Handleap, at a mile, was won by the four-year-old American colt Gum Shoe by Yankee—Caoutchouc. Carrying 101 pounds he ran the mile in 1:363 and won by a head from Newlay with Diadumenos another head back. A. B. Hancock's recent purchase Wrack was a lapped-on fourth.

W. L. Oliver will campaign his string at New Orleans this coming winter. He shipped Boxer. Tandsticker and Lord Leighton to Lakewood from Toronto and Boxer and Tandsticker will be taken up in time for the New Orleans season. He has two yearling colts in charge of James K. Frayling at Locust Valley, L. I., that will be sent over to Lakewood. One is a son of Voorhees and Gaylota and the other a son of Dr. Leggo and Napa Girl. He has great hopes for both of them.

HANK O'DAY'S BAD MANNERS

THROWS HIS JOCKEY WHILE ON HIS WAY TO THE POST AND RUNS AWAY.

Pan Zareta and Far Away Win for Their Texas ner—Hanovia Wins as an Outsider—New Or-leans Track Injured by the Hurricane.

Louisvile. Ky., October 5.—The running of the mile and a sixteenth handicap at Churchill Downs today brought with it the outstanding incident of the afternoon's racing. There were only four starters, with Hank O'Day and Lindenthal enjoying the most support. Hank O'Day's backers lost their money before the horses were dispatched on their way for the race. It came as a result of Jockey Connelly being unseated from Hank O'Day while going to the post, The horse then ran away three miles and a quarter before he could be caught. He was then excused from starting, but as he was in the hands of the starter all money bet on him stood. His backers tried to hedge on Lindenthal and reaped substantial additional loss, as the Schorr representative was not in a running mood today and was soundly beaten. Hanovia won the purse in a drive with Water Witch. The latter ways best and but for getting in a pocket and losing much ground, when she was taken around, she would have won.

In the three-quarters allowance race Pan Zareta had an easy time in winning over Vogue and Lady Jane Grey. She was much the best at the weights, but she would have had more trouble to beat the Gallaher filly but for Kederis' action in taking her across in front of the others at the start and forcing them to pull up. This gave Pan Zareta a big advantage, which she retained for the entire way. Vogue, after being knocked back, closed a big gap and headed the others for second place. The stewards instantly took cognizance of Kederis' rough tactics and suspended him for ten days.

The Newman colors were victorious for the second time during the afternoon when Far Away succeeded in getting up in time to beat Jerry in the last strides of the fift race after a long stretch which raged in that city and vicinity last week the standard it enjoyed when racing was on at the track.

James Corrigan, Price Mckinney and a party of friends were arrivals from Cleveland this afternoon to enjoy the remaining days of racing here. There will be a sale of racers by auction in the paddock next Thursday.

H. R. Baker, who at one time successfully campaigned an extensive stable of racers and is the father of Grover and Hundley Baker, paid a visit of Churchill Downs today for the first time in a number of years.

Wathen would have paid a record price for mutuel betting had he won the opening race; his odds were 1329 to 1.

Congressman Swager Shirley was an interested spectator at the course this afternoon.

The ideal weather that prevailed caused a big increase in the attendance. The track was heavy when the races began, but constant work with the harrows improved it considerably as the afternoon progressed.

ALL OVER THIS YEAR AT HILLCREST.

Toronto. Ont.. October 5.—Theroughbred racing in this vicinity was concluded for the fir with the running of the final day's races of the Toronto Driving Club at Hillcrest Park this afternoon. The weather was cloudy and cold and the track heavy. The attendance was only about 3,000.

The fourth race was so reduced by scratches that it was declared off and no other substituted. The second race was productive of the closest finish of the day, Abdul earning a nose decision. Favorites won half the card, but the victory of Sempsilla, backed from 4 to 1 down to 2 to 1 in the concluding dash, was the most popular.

After winning the seventh race, Coroopsis was bid up $400 over his entered price of $200 by W. Short, trainer of Parlor Boy. He was bought in.

Before leaving to begin his duties as judge at Laurel, Presiding Judge Ed Cole restored to good standing jockeys La Masters and Rooney. The latter was suspended a year ago at Dufferin Park for seizing the bridle of an opposing horse during a race. La Masters was set down for the same offense last summer.

The next season was one of comparatively little effort, and Mr. Worton's horse only carried silk on three occasions. But the first was a memorable one, for he won the Kempton Park "Jubilee" in a field of good class, starting at the useful price of 20 to 1. His enthusiastic owner never tired of telling all and sundry that Victor Wild was certain to win, and small backers especially benefited, while not a few layers of odds were rather badly hit. In the Royal Hunt Cup Victor Wild put up a great, if not a winning, performance in running that good horse Clorane to a short head and giving him nine pounds, and that he could sprint he next showed in taking the Brethy Stakes at Newmarket when the speedy Grig was beaten into third place. It was left for 1896 to put the seal on his fame by a second victory in the "Jubilee," this time carrying the substantial impost of 133 pounds. His form had been so good, and so strong was his backing that no "20's" were forthcoming this time about his channee, and his starting price was 5 to 1, to which it was brought largely by the support accorded by the public, who strongly rallied round their favorite. A little luck favored them, however, for Kilcock, well backed and lightly weighted, would doubtless have won had he been better ridden. But at Ascot he found the Cup course beyond his compass, and after an unsuccessful journey to France for the Prix du Conseil Municipal, and running unplaced for the Cambridgeshire won by Winkfeld's Pride, he was sent to the stud. There he did not stay long, and came out racing as a summer of the Royal Hind with Aft ascot he achieved another great thing in conceding Knight of the Thistie no less than 35 nounds and running him to three-quarters of a length and after winning the Coronation Cup (a handicap) with 139 pounds up, he was once more retired to the stud, this time at an enhanced fee. His record shows him as a game and honest thoroughbred, and it bore out very strongly the theory of "horses for courses," for his greatest exploits were achieved at Kempton, Ascot, and Hurst Park.

Coming at a later date than Victor Wild, another one-time selling plater to ultimately distinguish immelf was Dean Swift, which did such good service for J. B. Joel, and it is a moot point whether the son of Childwick and Pasquil was a greater farse. The the racing public that we have a consensus to the racing public was greater farse. The the racing public was deal with the City and Suburban, in connection with which he holds a unique record. He ran for that popular handicap on no fewer than seven occasions, and they were consecutive, from 1904 to 1910, and was only unplaced once—in 1907. He was successful in 1905 and 1910. Dean Swift was early in the ranks of the "sales" in 1905 and 1910. On a swift was early in the ranks of the "sales" in the first public appearance in one at the kempton and passed and the server well and the record of the ca

THE DRAIN ON BRITISH BLOODSTOCK.

THE DRAIN ON BRITISH BLOODSTOCK.

The serious feature of the sales and one that ought to be brought to the notice of the government is that so many yearlings have been bought to go to America. If the suspension of racing is maintained throughout next season we shall very soon begin to suffer from serious depletion of our blood-stock, just as the Americans themselves have done through their senseless anti-racing craze. It is not as though the suspension of Jockey Club racing served any good end whatever, for the bastard sport of "flapping" has been immensely promoted as a direct result and government does not venture to interfere. In such circumstances I cannot imagine why the National Hunt Committee hesitates for a moment in carrying on their branch of sport. If ministers will not stop racing at Blaydon, is it not obvious that of their own motion they will stop it nowhere, unless they can find catspaws to do the business for them?

It does not take long to clear a country out of boodstock when once the rot sets in, as has been and I since asse of the United States of America, and I since asse of the United States of America, and I since asse of the United States of America, and I since asse of the United States of America, and I since asses of the United States of America, and I should the level of the secondary of depletion has begun in the level of the secondary of the second
